In my mind
I've climbed mountains,
But through my hands only have passed the seas.

Impressions of light and sound that others have felt also Still I go only when others have been first

To ask myself questions whose answers I do not know
To find my final stopping place which only time will show

When the pages are turned, the flight begins

Student Interests Range From the Sound of Music to the Smell of Printer's Ink

Climbing mountains to goals was the aim of each club and organization of the school Common interests brought individuals together to exchange ideas and to find new outlets of creativity. Different fields of interests within the student body brought about new clubs while others faded with old ideas.

Established organizations such as Keyettes, band, and cheerleaders sought to make this year different from any other. Community and nationwide projects were tackled, more intricate music was attempted, and new cheers were instigated Each club strove to stabilize its organization and to make its name established. Members of clubs new to extra-curricular activities this year worked to give their groups lasting direction and to contribute new spirit to the school

SCA Sponsors Fund Raising Projects During School Year

"Warrior Willy" bumper stickers, key chains, and stationery were sold by the Student Cooperative Association to raise money. To purchase backboards for the tennis courts, they also sponsored a bottle drive as class competition. The class that collected the most bottles was awarded points toward the giant spirit jug presented at the end of the year.

President Bill Porch presided over the many assemblies presented by the SCA in August new members to the Warnor reservation were welcomed by SCA officers and faculty members. Various aspects of Warnor life were presented in a skit by SCA representatives.

Throughout the year assemblies were held not only to inform but to entertain the student body. After a recent tour of South America, the Navy Show Band performed at Kecoughtan Their songs ranged from old ones such as "I've Got a Lot of Living to Do" to popular tunes such as "Spinning Wheel"

Under the direction of Mrs. Joel Grimm and Mrs. Dorothy Fleck, the SCA filled ditty bags to send servicemen in Vietnam Each homeroom contributed articles such as washclothes, soap, razor blades, and toothpaste to the bags. The soldiers overseas also received Christmas cards from members of the student body

Pride and school unity were stressed in SCA elections held in March. Two candidates for each office presented their campaign speeches in a special assembly before the student body.

Representatives Plan Elections

Planning dances, organizing elections, and setting up assemblies were just a few of the jobs done by SCA Representatives.

Each homeroom elected a student to attend the bimonthly meetings presided over by Bill Porch. The representatives brought ideas from their homerooms to the SCA meetings and then reported back to homerooms on the action taken. It was through these representatives that the SCA reached all the student body

Recruiting SCA committee members these students emisted the aid of the people whom they represented. Within their homerooms they promoted special SCA projects such as the Toys for Tots Campaign, Warnor Week, Christmas cards to men in Vietnam, and a clothing drive for Eastern State Hospital

ICC Sponsors Spring Carnival, Homecoming Parade, Club Day

Chaos erupted at the ICC Carmival when the Thespian Bash-Splash broke, spilling water on everyone in the gym. The object of the booth was to dunk a student in a tank full of water by hitting a board with a basis.

Twenty-five clubs earned money by operating such booths as Cat's Mouth, Coin-Toss and Drive-a-Nail at the second annual Inter-Club Council sponsored spring event

Coordinating events between all the clubs in school President Dale Danielian

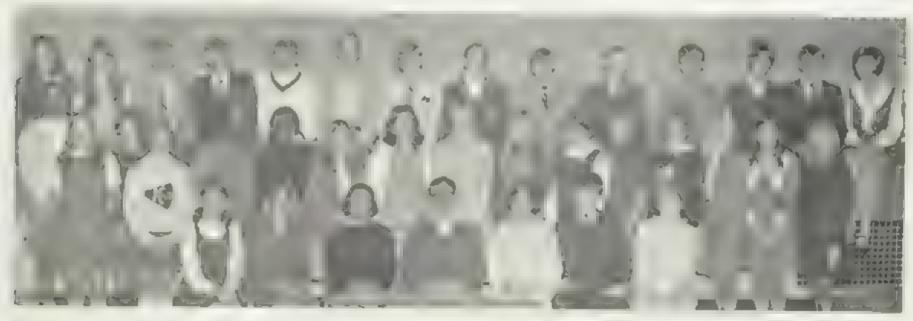

made certain that none of the clubs had bake sales, doughnut sales, car washes, or other money raising projects on the same day

Club Day was aponsored by the ICC soon after school started. Each club set up an exhibit in the library and students were allowed to go in during both lunches.

ICC members set up the 1969 Homecoming parade. They were responsible for getting the cars, planning the parade route, and contacting judges.

MHS Donates Tutoring Time

Tutoring was the main money raising project for the Math Honor Society this year Members were available to help students in their homes. Tuesday afternoons free tutoring was offered to those students seeking help in geometry.

Under the sponsorship of Mrs. Charlotte Remaley, the society contributed articles to the SCA ditty bags for servicemen oversess. Money was also given to the Toys for Tota Campaign

Dale Danielian acted as president of the Math Honor Society white Fred Parker handled the club's activities in the event of Dale's absence. Larry Reece took care of the financial affairs while Janice Hardrath was kept busy recording the minutes during the bimonthly meetings.

KHS Debaters Concentrate On US Involvement

Resolved "that Congress should prohibit. United States unilateral military intervention in foreign countries." Debate squad members argued the pros and cons of this 1969-1970 debate topic during the entire school year.

Kecoughtan debaters sponsored their first district invitational tournament in November Held at William and Mary the tournament consisted of squads from nine area high schools Kecoughtan took third place affirmative and third place negative. Individual squad members Barbara Turner and Steve Saunders took fifth place affirmative and fifth place negative respectively.

Novice debaters from the district schools participated in a Round Robin This practice session stressed techniques of debate and enabled the debaters to become familiar with the topic A workshop was also held at James Blair High School in Williamsburg

'70 Magazine Features Art

Photography was a new feature in the 1970 Torch Published in December and May, the magazine was comprised of prose, poetry, and art. A greater emphasis was placed on art than in past years Sketches and designs were submitted from the art department for use in both the fall and spring editions.

Editor Barbara Rogers, with assistance from Fain Rutherford, worked along with other Torch members to select the most interesting articles from those submitted in order to represent all students, a variety of literary material was chosen from book critiques and analyses to haiku, a Japanese form of poetry which restricts its author to three lines totaling seventeen syllables.

Along with Mrs. Evelyn Hayes, Torch sponsor, staff members sold theater tickets for the Paramount's Student Enrichment Series. Profits were used to publish the magazine

1970 Yearbook

Where are my pictures? . . Have you got any pages ready?" Such questions were frequently asked as deadlines for the 1970 Tomahawk approached. Many after school hours and Saturday mornings were spent working to produce the best possible annual Checking pages, making sure deadlines were met, and distributing pictures kept Debbie. Stewart, editor, busy. Monica Moorehead checked copy for spelling mistakes and editorializing, while Belinda Sikorski acted as business manager.

Tomahawk sales were held twice this year. Staff members sold annuals during both lunches in December and May

New Equipment Aids Tomahawk Photographers

Christmas brought the Tomahawk photographers a long-awaited present from the annual staff A new Fujica camera, drum dryer, and enlarger were purchased to enable the photographers to take and develop better pictures

As their picture taking assignments included after school club meetings, sports events, and special events such as the Miss KHS Pageant, the Junior Ring Dance, the Senior Prom. Sophomore Co-Rec Night, and the Keyette's Celebrity Auction, the photographers seldom left school at 3 00 p.m. and often came on Saturday mornings.

During school Danny Charles, Mike Tolliver, and John Wilt were responsible for covering all assemblies, classes, and capturing faculty members throughout the school day

With deadlines nearing Tomahawk members often called on the photog raphers for last minute pictures. They were also asked to reprint lost pictures or to touch up pictures needed for the annual

Tom-Tom Staff Airs Programs

Returning for its fourth year, the Kecoughtan radio program, Warrior Tom-Tom, was broadcast every Saturday morning at 10.40 a.m. on WVEC. A twenty minute program was presented each week during the school year Tom-Tom members were divided into four staffs with each staff producing the program once a month

Warrior Tom-Tom aired news, sports and feature reports along with personal interviews. Special programs were done on marijuana, manne biology, and the tennis tournament held at Hampton Institute

In addition to reporting school news, Warrior Tom-Tom members also par beipated in school activities. Under the direction of their adviser, Miss Carole Lushinsky, the staff participated in the annual Homecoming Parade and the ICC Carnival

As members of the Drama Club, students were expected to participate in the KHS dramatic productions. To fulfill this obligation, some members actually performed in the plays, but more often they were important in completing back stage work. Club members were an essential part of the productions for their work on stage crews, costumes, and make-up Detailed art work and complicated make-up and costumes were a necessary part of each production.

Outside activities for the members included field trips to Wedgewood Dinner Theater, the Virginia Museum, and attendance at a William and Mary Theater seminar

President Scott Jacobs conducted the meetings which were held every other Tuesday. At these meetings plans were made for field trips and seminars.

Drama Club members who did outstanding work and showed a real interest in the school dramatic productions were rewarded for their efforts by being inducted into the National Thespian Society

Thespians Perform in Assembly

Students were granted membership into the National Thespian Society for having performed meritorious work in the dramatic arts. After becoming members, they served in an advisory capacity for dramatic productions. Student directors from the society assisted Mr. Thomas I. Miller drama teacher, in the direction and production of Kecoughtan's four major plays.

In order to raise funds for the apring musical Once Upon A Mattress, the Thespians presented "One-twenty-fourth of a Day of Entertainment." It was composed of various skits, commercials, and a one act play. "The Denoument," which was also presented in competition at William and Mary earlier in the year. The production was performed at an assembly for which admission was charged.

Thespians also provided entertainment for spectators at the SCA Carnival with their booth, the "Bash Splash," which was the highlight of the afternoon when the tank collapsed and eight hundred gallons of water sent everyone scurrying

Choir Tapes Christmas TV Show in Portsmouth

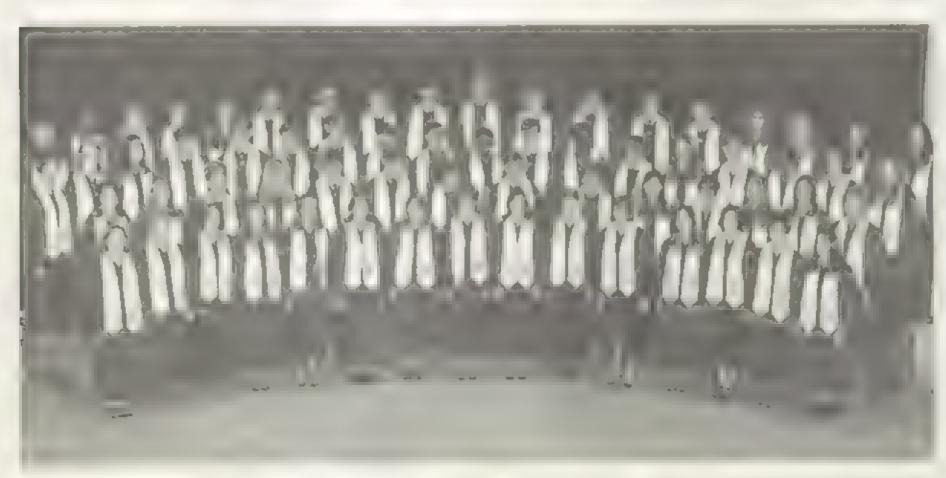

With the American flag as a backdrop. Tony Young, Ralph Richerson, Ned Johnson, Joe Brown, and Joe France parform several patriotic numbers in the Fall Concert.

Members of the A Cappella Choir experienced many "firsts" this year. Under the direction of Mrs. Lucife Sutterer the choir went to Portsmouth to tape a television show of Christmas music. They performed with all other city high schools in the Hampton Roads Colliseum and sang for the School Board Credit Union Banquet.

Choir members performed in assemblies at Syms and Kecoughtan as well as the annual concerts. Featured in the Facoucert were Fred Harvell as soloist and Frank Dynes and Danyal Lawson at the piano performing "The Battle Hymn of the Republic." Also included was a choral selection from the popular musical George M.I. Miss Rachel Foster student teacher from Hampton Institute, directed the choir in three numbers in the Christ mas Concert.

Kecoughten was well represented at the All-Regional Chorus in February by having twenty-six students participating Jane Mayo, Judy Reason, Patti Parks, Relph Richerson and Tony Young jour neyed to Norfolk for the All-State Chorus in April

In addition to the honorary awards given to outstanding choir members at the Spring Concert, a scholarship fund was initiated to aid a graduating senior in his pursuit of a musical education.

Key Club Publishes Student Directory

Selling basketball and football programs and ushering at school functions the Key Club was active in school as well as community projects. Key Clubbers served their community by collecting for ALSAC and other nationally known chanties such as Muscular Dystrophy

On March 8 Key Clubbers participated in Apple Jelly Sunday Apple Jelly was sold for a dollar a jar and proceeds went towards the construction of a summer camp for the mentally retarded children of Virginia. The project, which involved Key and Keyette Clubs all over the peninsula successfully raised the necessary money

Student directories were published by the Key Club and sold for lifty cents as the clubs' main money making project

Third place in float competition was captured by a combined effort of the Keyette and Key Club in the Football Homecoming Parade

Four Kecoughtan Key Clubbers attended the International Key Club Convention held at the Golden Triangle in Norfolk in March The purpose of this annual convention was to exchange views with Key Clubbers from across the country and to receive awards for outstanding club achievements. #### KHS Lettermen Boost Athletics; Monies Raised Buy Equipment

Composed of varsity letter winners, the Varsity Club's main objective was to aid the athletic department through various fund raising projects. Led by President Charlie Little, the lettermen sold cushions megaphones, and tooth brushes. They also sold cokes after school and during basketball games. The proceeds from these projects were used to purchase traphies for outstanding athletes in every sports' field and to purchase a pitching machine for the baseball team.

Varsity Club members took on a new role when they acted as cheerleaders for the powder puff football game. Some of the less adventurous members coached the girls who participated in the game.

Three booths at the ICC Carnival kept members busy. They operated a BB shot booth, a sponge throw booth, and they sold soft drinks.

United Efforts and Team Spirit Result in Common Goals

The light of the stadium, the roaring sound of a crowd, and the driving force of a hopeful win became the life of Kecoughtan High School's athletes this year. However, not all was glory for each member of every team. Practicing many long hours and sacrificing other activities, the players represented the school by putting forth their best possible effort. Athletes could always be found at school on Saturday mornings and late each afternoon trying to perfect a lay-up shot in basketball or a backhand in tennis. In participating in any team sport, the members realized the necessity of merging the individual to become part of a successful team which combined single efforts for the common goal

Class Spirit Builds Unity and Understanding

Following the footsteps left by others, the three classes of Kecoughtan began the year determined to add new tracks. All classes strove to make their class unique and to be remembered by those who come after Selling everything from light bulbs to Christmas candles, each class planned and worked for months in advance for such special projects as the Junior Ring Dance, Senior Prom and Sophomore Co-Rec-Night. The three years a class spent together were full of planning, work and often panic. When it seemed as if time were running out and a project would never be completed, class members came through to get the job done A spirit developed from each class which united to become the spirit of Kecoughtan High.

Wow look at the size of this auditorium! Is this 'F' corrider? . Have you seen that good looking biology teacher? . . When are JV cheerleading tryouts? . This school doesn't look as big from the outside . You're lost too huh?

These and similar comments were typical of those that may have been overheard by any bystander when more than six hundred bewildered sophomores spent their first day at Kecoughtan last August

Sophomores began a busy year with the election of officers in October The Sophomore Executive Board, consisting of a representative from each sophomore homeroom, worked closely with the officers in coordinating the year's activities

Profits from a car wash in the fall and class pin sales in the spring provided the necessary funds for the sophomores' big project of the year. ### Ralph Richerson Leads Class

In the beginning there was mumbling and doubt, but this rapidly changed to a deafening roar "'71 Rules" echoed through the gym Ralph Richerson, Junior Class president, had stepped forward to accept "Ye Olde Spirit Jug." The juniors had stolen the jug from the undefeated seniors for the first time

Throughout the year, the Class of '71 continued to show their class and schoo spirit. Juniors collected a record breaking number of boxes for the annual KHS Hampton football game bonfire to earn first place in class competition

In addition to selling light bulbs to raise money for their spring events, committees were formed for the annual Talent Show and Junior Ring Dance. Mike Williams supervised the production of the 1970 Talent Show, whose proceeds went towards financing the Ring Dance

Brigadoon, with its dream world and Scottish countryside, set the mood for the major event of the juniors' year, the 1970 Ring Dance. Juniors celebrated the long awarted arrival of their class rings April 17

Class of '70 Anticipates Final Year at KHS;

Eagerly anticipating their final year together, the Class of '70 assumed their roles as school leaders. "'70 Rules!" was the cry as the seniors dominated "Ye Olde Spirit Jug" throughout the year

Securing first place for the second successive year, the senior class football homecoming float proclaimed "Proud of the Past, Confident of the Future." Queen Cathy Hastings and senior attendants Shelia Brown and Linda Madsen represented the senior class

Winter brought college boards, college applications, and mid-term exams. Brightening the month of January was the senior class' Miss KHS Pageant and Miss KHS, senior Susan Tyrrell

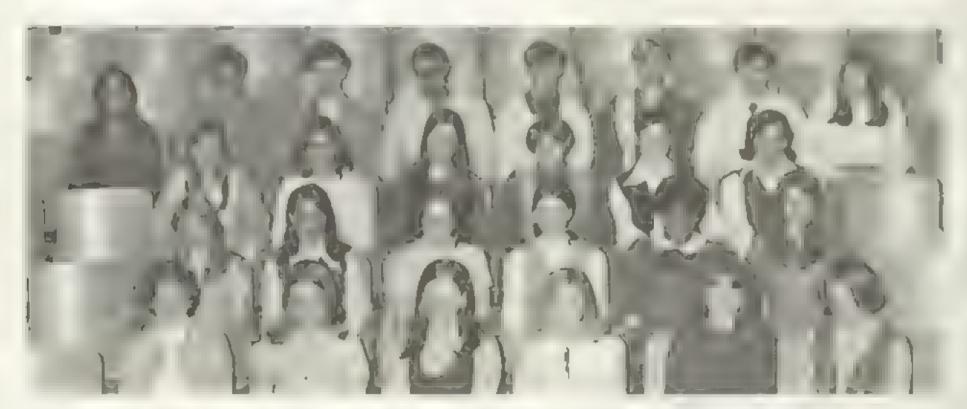

The Crucible, the senior class play, highlighted the month of February Basketball homecoming soon followed and the seniors were represented by Queen Sarbara Swanson and attendant Lynn Gibson

Dancing at the Senior Prom, seniors enjoyed the evening as their last social event together. June found the seniors, with sponsors Mrs. Sue Weilmuenster and Mrs. Norma Seals, reminiscing about the highlights of their past years together at Class Night

June 14 marked a milestone in the lives of the members to the Class of '70 who, robed in green and white, received their diplomas, turned their rings and tassels, and looked to the future as Kecoughtan graduates

Carefully measuring the needed amount of tape, senior Cindy Jackson waits as senior Steve Bruger adjusts the crepe paper for the tunnel exit at the Senior Promiseld in May

Intense school spirit, a devotion to and for all Warrior activities have characterized Vicki Blevin's three years at Kecoughtan. Her service to her class and school in several areas and her sincere desire to contribute have earned for Vicks faculty recognition as an outstanding member of the Class of 1970. Always performing with pep and enthusiasm, Vicki was outstanding as a majorette for three years. As Sophomore Class President Vicki helped mold the Class of '70 into a cohesive unit. Her sweetness and charm won for her the support of classmates and faculty alike. Extending her interest to the entire school. Vicki served as SCA treasurer as a junior and SCA secretary as a senior. She was also an active member of Keyettes, Warrior Tom Tom staff, and Girls' Chorus. Perhaps most outstanding was her co-editorship of Tribel Tales. Her proficiency in journalism and her outstanding leadership of the newspaper staff earned for her the position of secretary-treasurer of Quill and Scroll Vicki also attended the Virginia High School Editors' Workshop at Virginia Commonwealth University and Southern Interscholastic Press Association Workship at Washington and Lee, Vicki's love for her school, her friendliness and cooperative spirit have merited the gratitude of the faculty and the class

Outstanding citizenship, sportsmanship and service to his class have earned faculty recognition as an outstanding member of the Class of 1970 for Jeff Grimm, athlete and all-around student

Jeff's participation in athletics as a three year letterman on the Varsity Football team and two year letterman on the Varsity Baseball Team has represented the high ideals of competitive sports and young menhood Winner of the "Best Sophomore on the Varsity" Award, Jeff quarterbacked the Warners to an impressive 7-2-1 season his first year at Kecoughtan. As a junior, Jeff was the reciplent of "The Most Valuable Back" Trophy and the Varsity Scholastic Award. Cocaptain of the 1969-70 football team, Jeff also received the DAR Good Citizenship Medal and a National Varsity Club Award for Scholarship. A keen desire to serve his class was realized by serving as vice president of the Sophomore Class and president of the Junior Class. A three year member of the Key Club and Varsity Club. Jeff was Key Club secretary and vice president of the Varsity Club his senior year Representing Kecoughtan at Amencan Legion Boys' State, Jeff was chosen to be a member of the Honor Guard. Jeff's other activities included SCA Executive Board, Vol-teens, and National Spanish Honor Society An honor graduate and voted Most Popular by his classmates. the qualities of leadership, citizenship, and sportsmanship demonstrated throughout his three years at Kecoughtan have earned for Jeff the praise of the faculty and his peers.

Service to her class and outstanding work in the area of publications have mented recognition for Senior Class President Debbie Stewart as an outstanding graduate of the Class of 1970. Debbie, a friendly and extremely capable young lady, consistently proved her devotion to her class, working on committees and projects as a sophomore and serving as Junior Class Homecoming Float co-chairman, Ring Dance Decorations committee chairman, and a member of the Junior Class Executive Committee Heading the Class of 1970 as president, Debbie was selected by her classmates to receive the Elizabeth Cook "Outstanding Senior Award" at graduation A member of the Tomahawk staff as a juntor, Debbie's outstanding work on that publication earned for her membership in Quill and Scroll and editorship of the 1970 yearbook. Versatile and enthusiastic in all of her endeavors. Debbie was a 1969 delegate to American Legion Girls' State and served in the House of Delegates in that assembly. She was also an active member of Keyettes and a three year member of the A Cappella Choir Voted "Most Likely to Succeed" in the Hall of Fame, Debbie, an honor graduate has truly exemplified the ideals of young womanhood in her many activities at Kecoughtan and has earned the respect and admiration of her classmates and the earned for him membership in National Honor Society, Math Honor Society, and Quill and Scroll. Voted "Most Intellectual" by his classmates, Guy is also listed in Who's Who Among American High School Students. As a member of the Audio-Sonics Club for three years and president his senior year. Guy prepared the sound and lighting system for such activities as the Miss KHS Pageant, Lions Variety Shows, Faculty Frolics, one act plays, drama productions, band and choral concerts, pep railies, and assemblies. Quiet and retiring. Guy did his job without complaint, always cooperating with faculty and students alike As a sophomore Guy participated in the Tidewater Science Congress. He has also been active in the ICC, serving as Carnival committee chairman and Best Club of the Year Award Committee chairman his senior year Inaddition, Guy did a superior job as Faculty Section Head for the 1970 Tomahawk. As a senior, Guy was a recipient of the Bow and Arrow Award, an honor rarely bestowed upon a student. His dedicated service to his school, his willingness to serve, and his unassuming demeanor have won for Guy the respect of the faculty and his peers.

journalist and enthusiastic Warnor, Barbara Easter has earned faculty recognition as an outstanding graduate of the Class of 1970 for outstanding contributions to her school. Throughout her three years at Kecoughtan, Barbara has entered wholeheartedly into a vanety of activities. Her keen interest in her school was evident as a sophomore when she participated in the fall play, SCA Publicity Committee, Pep Club, and Girls' Recreation Association. The winner of the Presidential Award for Physical Fitness, Barbara also received the GRA Service Award. As a junior, this capable, talented young lady won first place in Tempora Division at the York Art Show and an Honorable Mention in Pen and Ink. A delegate to Virginia Girls' State as a junior, Barbara served as Commonwealth Attorney Holding office in both the Pep Club and GRA, 8arbara was on the Ring Dance Decorations Committee and a delegate to the National Conference of Christiens and Jews. She was also a perticipant on the Hampton Council on Human Relations. Her outstanding ability in journalism led to membership in Quill and Scroll and attendance at Southern Interscholastic Press Association Conference and Virginia High School Editors' Workshop Co-editor of Tribal Tales, Barbare has been outstanding in her leadership of the newspaper staff. Recipient of the Kecoughtan Outstanding Teenager Award Barbara placed second in the Elks' Leadership Contest, She served as Pep

Club president, president of Quill and Scroll, and Senior Class treasurer her final year at Kecoughtan. For her many talents, her friendly, outgoing personality, and her contribution to her school in many areas, the faculty has commended her

Service to his school through the Student Cooperative Association, musical talent, and participation in many Kecoughtan activities have made Bill Porch. SCA president, deserving of faculty recognition as an outstanding graduate of the Class of 1970 Bill's musical talent was obvious from the sophomore year as his three year membership in A Cappella Choir demonstrates. As a junior Bill had a lead in the fall play. West Side Story, and was chairman of the Junior Class Talent Show. During his senior year Bill performed in The Crucible, the Senior Class play, and Once Upon a Mattress, the spring musical. He was also a third place winner in the Junior Class Talent Show His leadership of the SCA was commendable, and he devoted much of his time and energies to organizing a Human Relations Forum, the Student Relations Committee, and an honor system for Kecoughtan students. Bill's other activities included membership in the Key Club. Pep Club, Warrior Tom Tom staff, and Quill and Scroll. An honor graduate, Bill was voted "Best All-Around" by his class and was one of seven delegates to Boys' State his junior year A desire to serve outstanding school spirit, and a pleasant, outgoing personality have characterized Bill during his three years at Kecoughten and have earned for him recognition by the faculty and his fellow students

During her three years at Kecoughtan, distinguished graduate and recipient of the Balfour Key, Cleudia Hale has demonstrated outstanding capability and leadership. Her membership in many school organizations, superior scholarship, and dedicated service to her class have earned for Claudia recognition by the faculty as an outstanding member of the Class of 1970. A National Merit of Commendation winner, Claudia was voted by her class "Most Intellectual as her class rank of seventh would indicate. She was a member of four honorary societies, having served as vice president of the National Spanish Honor Society, treasurer of the National Honor Society, and a member of the Math Honor Society and Quill and Scroll. A poised, confident, courteous young lady. Claudia has served her class consistently. She was a member of both the junior and senior class executive boards and is vice president of the Class of 1970. Claudia also participated in Keyettes, Pep Club, Girls' Chorus, the Tomahawk staff, Spanish Club and the Student Cooperative Association, Her devotion to all the activities of the class since her sophomore year and her charm and leadership qualities have been outstanding in all areas. Claudia was named as Kecoughten's nominee for an outstanding senior girl in the First District in Virginia. The faculty has commended Claudia for her many contributions to her class and school.

involved in the field of forensics, Jerry Taiton has brought numerous honors to Kecoughtan and has demonstrated qualties of leadership that have earned for him recognition by the faculty as an outstanding graduate of the Class of 1970. The American Legion Oratorical Contest Winner in school, city, district, and zone, Jarry placed third in the state and a copy of his speech was entered in the Congressional Record by the Honorable Thomas Downing. As a junior, Jerry placed second in the district for public speaking. His interest in speech qualified him for Warrior Tom Tom and earned for him membership in Quill and Scroll Listed in Merit's Who's Who Among American High School Students, Jerry was commended for National Ment Scholarship Qualifying Test scores and his excellent academic record made possible membership in National Honor Society and Math Honor Society. Though concentrating on scholastic activities. Jerry's versatility extended into other areas. He served as a team manager for basketball and tennis and earned letters in these sports. A member of the Varsity Club, vice-president of the Latin Club, a Key Clubber, Speech Club member, and SCA representative, Jerry demonstrated outstanding leadership and interest in his school his entire three years. Jerry served as a messenger in the 1970 session of the Virginia General Assembly House of Delegates and again brought honor to his school The faculty has commended Jerry for his service to the school, his exemplary character, and his academic excellence

Teachers Devote Their Time and Effort to Generate a Successful School Year

Asking questions and seeking knowledge, students turned to faculty members for answers. Out of class, teachers spent many hours preparing lesson plans to challenge their students. In order to make their subject more interesting, teachers often deviated from their regular procedures with the use of films, skits, and field trips

To provide more than just a classroom education, many faculty members sponsored clubs, organizations, and classes. These sponsors spent much extra time after school and on Saturdays meeting with clubs, rehearsing drama and music groups, decorating for dances, and working with school publications. Through their untiring efforts faculty members not only provided an education for students but also made it possible for students to participate in extra-curricular activities

Free Bussing Poses Problem for School Board

Demands for salary increases for teachers, city school buses for junior and senior high school students, and constuction of new schools were issues affecting the majority of Hampton families. Those in charge of these decisions comprised the Hampton School Board

Headed by Mr. Harrol A. Brauer, Jr., the Board acted on demands of the Hampton Educational Association, the Professional organization composed of members of the school system. Demands included pay raises in their proposed budget for the next fiscal year.

Board members also listened to Kecoughtan students. Bill Porch, Claudia Hale, and Dale Daniekan discussed such issues as graduation of the Senior Class in the new Hampton Roads Coliseum

For the second year, parents confronted the School Board with the demand for free transportation for students of the city's junior and senior high schools. This year the Board voted to study ways to replace the privately owned buses now in use

Always lending a he ping hand. Kecoughtan's administrators were well known to students. If not performing their given duties, they were often found advising students.

Responsible for maintaining order throughout the school, the assistant principal Mr Fletcher Gray was often seen patroling the cafeteria and evaluating teachers in addition to these duties he often became acting principal for the absent Mr Dyche

Arriving early every morning, assistant principal Mr. Walter Jones had to locate substitutes for absent teachers. Seldom having a free moment, Mr. Jones also arranged time, facilities, police, and custodians for the numerous activities at Kecoughtan.

During school hours Dean of Girls Mrs Shirley Booth coordinated the many student aides and sent assignments to home bound students. Before school however, she could be found issuing the yellow, pink, and green absentee slips for girls.

KHS Office Staff Meets Visitors, Manages Funds

"Good Morning, Kecoughtan High School May I help you?" Visitors to KHS were first greeted by Mrs. Betsy Storey the school's receptionist and secretary If not answering the telephone or greeting visitors. Mrs. Storey could be seen processing mail, making out the payroll, or requisitioning materials for the School Board.

Joining the Kecoughtan staff this year Mrs. Beatrice Grimmer, secretary to the principal, found herself busy with office appointments, the absentee list, Hampton's IBM computer, and federal forms in addition to acting as the school registrar as which she received all grades before releasing the report cards to teachers and students, she was in charge of Kecoughtan's keys teacher records and files and orders for much of the school's supplies

As manager of the Student Store Mrs Mildred Insley stocked, inventoried and sold needed materials to KHS students. In addition to the usual school supplies such as pens, pencils, and paper, these items also included such special articles as Warrior decals, Kecoughtan mugs, KHS pennants, and tickets to the many school events. Also, as bookkeeper she collected and disbursed all school monies, handled the funds of organization and filed financial reports. In spite of all these duties, however, she could always find time to mimeograph tests and other needed educational materials for teachers.

Guidance Helps Students Get Scholarships, Jobs

Making information available to the students was the goal of the enlarged KHS Guidance Department. The counselors, headed by Mrs. Jane Price, aided students in such areas as colleges, scholarships, courses, and jobs.

In addition to mailing transcripts to colleges, Kecoughtan's senior counselors, Mrs. Nell Mann and Mrs. Minnie Bembry, sent bulletins to seniors to relay news about colleges and scholarships. They also computed class rank

Mr. Arnold Ritt aided juniors whenever they had a problem. He also arranged for a series of afternoons to acquaint parents of juniors with information concerning colleges. Mrs. Evelyn Moore helped the new Warnors to adjust to their new school, to secure jobs, and ease scheduling difficulties.

Filing reams of paper and scheduling students for requested appointments kept Mrs. Gladys Hardrath busy in addition, she made copies of students' records to send colleges and employers

Ordering new books, cataloging them after they arrived, and placing them on the shelves for Kecoughtan students to borrow occupied the year for the librarian Miss Nancy Spain. She also helped students locate the necessary reference sources for their assignments.

Mrs. Jacqueline Carter, assistant librarian, was constantly locating and distributing to teachers the requested projectors, record players, televisions, tape recorders and other audio-visual equipment. Keeping an atmosphere conducive to quiet study also required the many skills of Mrs Carter

During the day Mrs. Mary Johnson, library secretary, helped fill out the many required forms of the school library. Frequently she found herself helping a student find publications that were necessary for research projects.

To help the sophomores become acquainted with their new school library the KHS librarians held special classes for sophomores at the beginning of the year. As part of their English class, they learned about the Dewey Decimal System.

Custodians Perform Necessary Services for KHS

Performing one of her many daily duties, Mrs. Viola Wilson cleans the sinks in the girls, restroom

Available whenever needed, the jant torial staff headed by Mr. Melvin Smith performed the necessary service of main taining the school. The first shift with whom Kecoughtan's student body was more familiar, could usually be found sweeping the many corridors, replacing fluorescent tubes, or moving heavy and bulky equipment or supplies to wherever they were needed. Later, after most students had gone home, the night shift readied the school for use during the next day by cleaning the many blackboards emptying the numerous trash cans, and sweeping the endless floors.

Kecoughtan's maids also provided many needed services to the school and students. Cleaning the windows in a supposedly windowless school and operating a faundry center which provided clean towels and fresh uniforms for the athletic department kept them busy throughout the day.

Sports, Driver

Programs for physical fitness dominated the Athletic Department headed by Mr. William E. Greene Daily exercise and participation in a variety of sports composed the activity of the Kecoughtan gym classes.

Boys developed strength and skill in touch football, basketball, wrestling volleyball, and softball Juniors and seniors who took another year of PE participated in tennis, apparatus and gymnas tics, and speedball

Emphasizing skills in such sports as soccer, volleyball and softball, the sophomore curriculum stressed participation in team sports. Upperclassmen participated in individual and dual sports such as golf, bowling and badminton.

For sophomores, the Athletic Department offered such crassroom courses as driver training during the first semester and physiology, anatomy, and first aid during the second semester. Students who wished to receive their drivers' licenses before becoming 18 years old were required to take behind-the-wheel driver training before and after school.

Appreciation of the Navy as a vital part of the national defense and as an interesting and rewarding career was the mission of the Naval Junior Reserve Officers' Training Corps. This course, established by the Secretary of the Navy in accordance with an Act of Congress, offered male students instruction in naval history, seamanship, navigation, meteorology, and oceanography

Cadets developed respect for authority, a keen sense of patnotism, self-reliance and leadership under the guidance of Commander Stronski and Chief Warrant Officer Gripp. In addition to classroom instruction and character building, the 110 cadets were given close order drill and survival training.

Trips to nearby installations provided the cadets with an overall view of the working Navy Knowledge of U.S. ships and aircraft, a necessity in a well rounded program, was gained from visits to the Little Creek Amphibious Base and the Norfolk Navai Base Cadets also obtained oceanographical experience at the Virginia Institute of Marine Sciences.

Successful completion of the threeyear program entitled the cadets to exemption from the first year of college level ROTC and consideration for advanced enlisted promotions upon volunteering for active duty in the Navy

Dances, Assemblies, Plays and Concerts Highlight the 1969-70 School Year

Affording students an opportunity to display their diverse talents and a chance to develop new ones, special events and activities stimulated the school's curriculum Flourishes of activity originated with sophomore orientation and persisted through the ICC Carnival to graduation

Events required planning and interest within the student body to make them successful. Through each project students learned responsibility in discharging their specific duties and budgeted their time wisely in insuring that all aspects of the programs were fulfilled. Students labored together to provide meaningful social and academic highlights to the year at KHS

Variety in SCA Assemblies Highlights Holidays

KHS students celebrated the holidays with skits this year. With Thanksgiving just around the corner, KHS students collected canned food for Thanksgiving bas kets. Over three carloads of baskets were donated to a representative of the Salvation Army at the assembly. A skit depicting the Pilgrims' first celebration with the Indians was presented.

Language students, representing people of many lands, portrayed the arrival of Santa Claus, Christmas carols of the countries were also sung by the clubs

Box Drive, Bonfire Highlight Indian Week

by the SCA

Beat Hampton! resounded at the ring of the bells as the Warriors got into the spirit of Indian Week. Yelling cheers and chants, students and the band paraded through the hails during both funches to rouse the spirit from Warriors.

During the week the SCA sponsored a Miss Gorgeous Green and White contest. For a penny a vote students voted for their favorite "lovely" in the school book store. The following contestants competed for the title Richard Sheppard Robert Sheppard, George Farr, Don Pizzeck, and Charles Mancil. The costumed beauties modeled during both lunches.

After a week of close competition, the box drive ended with the juniors taking first place, the seniors taking second place, and the sophomores taking third place. That night hundreds gathered for the yearly lighting ceremonies that sent 120,000 boxes — the largest number recorded in the school's seven year history — up in flames. The crowning of Richard Sheppard, Miss Gorgeous Green and White for 1969, by Barbara Easter highlighted the pre-game festivities.

Psychedelic Lights Freak Out MARAT/SADE

Hysterical screaming and moaning provided the setting for the KHS fall production. Marat/Sade, a drama of the early French revolutionary period, was written by Peter Weiss and directed by Mrs. Thomas Miller.

In this play within a play, the actors represented the inmates of an insane asylum who acted as the original characters, leaders of the French government

Dail Miller portrayed the fanatic Marat and Tom Hope starred as the Marquis de Sade. Drinda Franzen played the part of Charlotte Corday, murderer of Marat Scott Hawk portrayed her admirer Monsieur Duperret The role of the herald was played by Bob Shreve The chorus included Betty Holloman, Talmage Fauntleroy, Roy Shreve and James New Unusual lighting effects highlighted much of the play. The majority of the play was lighted in red and blue with special emphasis placed on the murder scene which was enacted in blood red lights. Psychedelic alternate flashing of red and blue lights stressed the mass hysteria of the last scene. Guy Davis directed the lighting.

Witchcraft Is Subject of Senior Class Play

Reverend Hale played by Tom Hope attempts to exorcise the spirits from Betty Pams played by Linda Madsen

Hysteria and hypochsy marked the action of this year's Senior class play. The Crucible. Abigail Williams, played by Pam Campbell, instigated the superstitious fear of witchcraft that erupted into a panic unparalled by any in history. The result was the execution of hundreds of men and women who failed to succumb to the pressure to confess.

The production was plagued by the difficulty of attaining costumes of the period, particularly those for the male actors. This problem was overcome through the cooperation of the Community Theatre

Reverend Hale, played by Torn Hope tried to enlighten the judges as to the irrationality of their actions. #### Winnifred Captures Dauntless in Spring Musical

Hilarity was the keynote of the evening as the Garrick Circle Players presented their first musical Once Upon a Mattress. The play by Jay Thompson was a satiric parody of the fairy tale "The Princess and the Pea"

Narrated by the minstrel, Robert Shreve, the play related the true adventures encountered by Princess Winnifed Betty Holloman, in her bid for Prince Dauntless, Steve Dyer Custom forbade any marriage until the quiet Prince had taken a bride Plagued by a mute king and an overbearing, verbose queen, Winnifred found very little aid available to her Having passed her royalty test. Winnifred not only freed the kingdom from celibacy but the King from his curse as well

Following the play. Mr. Thomas I Miller introduced Kecoughtan's first 'Academy Award' presentation, the "Irving Award." Robert Shreve was chosen best actor, while Betty Holloman received best actress for her performance in Once Upon a Mattress. Robert Shreve was also named best representative of drama for Kecoughtan

Clubs Work to Make ICC Carnival Fun for All

Neil Smith, Doug Kirk, and David Quigley man the Versity Club booth at the ICC Carnival

With more than twenty clubs participating, the annual ICC Carnival provided fun and entertainment for all who at tended Clubs presented a wide variety of games, services, and concessions

Games included basketball shooting, fortune telling, coin toss, dart throw, and bingo. The Thespians set up a "Bash Splash" in which the participants tried to dunk a club member in a giant tub. A small catastrophe occurred when the tub broke, flooding the gym floor DE students operated a photo booth for a minimal charge, and the FHA established a country store where students could purchase members homemade items Other attractions included an art sale by the Arts Society and a cake walk by the Keyettes

Under the direction of Guy Davis. Dale Danielian, and sponsors Mrs. Joel Grimm and Mrs. Dorothy Fleck, work on preparation and organization began long before the carnival date. Clubs were required to submit plans, sketches of their proposed booth, and publicity posters several weeks in advance in order for the organizats to arrange the gym floor layout. Profits and losses for the individual clubs depended on the popularity of each booth

Funds from Keyette Celebrity Auction Aid Indians

Keyette Victo Hubert hands an item to Mr. R. Lackey to be sold at the Celebrity Auction.

'What am I bid for this set of solid gold cuff links from Vice President Spiro Agnew... this autographed album by the Everly Brothers. Mario Andretti's racing jacket... this autographed book of poems by Rod McKuen..?" This year's Keyette Celebrity Auction featured a multitude of autographed objects from well known personalities along with various goods and services from the KHS faculty

When the bidding ended, $240 had been exchanged for personal possessions once belonging to their favorite celebrity. The prices ranged from $8 for an Indian bracelet to $18 for an evening at Wedgewood.

All proceeds collected from the sale of the articles were donated to help the American Indians. Kecoughtan's Keyettes joined with fellow Keyettes throughout the United States in the nation-wide effort to aid America's first inhabitants.

A gazebol from which Adrian and the Sensations' played, and a balloon which served as the throne for Prom. King Charlie Little and Queen Susan Fox, captured the center of attention. Pale blue cheesecloth suspended by ropes, was used for the ceiling while twenty three murals achieved the illusion of the out of doors.

Decorations in the cafeteria by use of more murals, were designed to produce the sensation of drifting among the clouds Refreshments of sandwiches, nuts, cake and punch were served

Chairmen for this year's promiwere Claudia Hale overall chairmen and Janice Hardrath, overall decorations chairman Ann Bartley and George Riesbeck shared the responsibility for the gym decorations while Karen Saunders and Sylvia Spencer had charge of the cafeteria

Seniors Urged to 'Turn World Upside Down'

Encouraging Keroughtan's graduating class to form the world upside down for worthwhile changes. Chapiain Robert Burnette gives the main address at the Baccalaureate service.

Proceeding into the auditorium for the Baccalaureate service, the Class of '70 marked the second step toward graduation. The class wore their caps and gowns for the first time

The Reverend Thomas A Dyer of the East Hampton Methodist Church gave the invocation after which Chaplain Robert Burnette read the Scripture, 1 Corinthians 13 The first selection by the A Cappella Choir, "O Divine Redeemer," followed

Chaplain Burnette of Langley Air Force Base gave the address entitled "Turning the World Upside Down." The stirring and inspirational speech neither patronized nor critized the youth of America but encouraged and instructed the graduates to go out and "turn the world upside down for worthwhile changes."

The A Cappella Choir preceded the benediction with the selection "How Lovely is Thy Dwelling Place" The benediction was delivered by The Reverend Samuel E Hyde of Victory Baptist Church

The recessional as well as the processional was played by Mr. Norman Voelcker, Professor of Piano and Voice at Hampton Institute. The class then recessed to the cafeteria where a reception was held for seniors, guests, and faculty

After giving the invocation Reverend Dys. Statis to Chaptern Burnette address the serior class.

Saddened by the thought of leaving their a maimater senior class officers. Debbie Stewart and Charlie Williams, shed a few teers.

Class of '70 Relives Past Memories at Class Night

During Steve Dyer's nerration of past memories, Cindy Jackson, Jeff Grimm, and Rick Jones reeract the beach party at Nags Head on Senior Skip Day.

With Dana Nottingham handling the role of emcee, Class Night relived the students' three years at KHS and provided a look into the future

The class history was presented in a French cafe scene when Ann Bartley, Cathy Hastings, Steve Dyer and V O Keen reminisced over an old scrapbook while other students reenacted the past memories

With the help of a teleporter, Ingrid Stilson and Fred Jackson located their school champions in the year 1990

Following Torn Hopes' reading of the class poem, "At the Turning," several awards were presented. Mr Torn Glascot awarded Pat Shareck the Chris Craft Scholarship. Class keys were given to twenty seniors for their outstanding contributions to KHS An innovation in Class Night was the announcement of outstanding seniors. Guy Davis, Bill Porch, Jerry Talton, Jeff Grimm, Claudia Hale, Barbara Easter, Debbie Stewart and Vicki Blevins

Gifts were presented to class sponsors. Mr Dyche, and other faculty members who had aided the class. Gifts to the school from the graduates were dugouts for the baseball field and numbering of the auditorium seats. The evening concluded with the entire class singing the aims mater, followed by the recessional

Anticipated by Impatient Seniors

Graduation exercises held June 14 marked the closing of twelve years of hard work and the realization of a dream come true to 450 departing seniors. For the first time in Kecoughtan's history, the exercises were held off the school grounds in the newly erected Hampton Roads Coliseum

The Reverend Louie V Andrews. Ir of Community Presbytenan Church gave the invocation. Debbie Stewart. Senior Class president, then addressed the seniors for the last time Stressing the need for the students of today to take an active part in the world in which they live, she encouraged the class to have purpose behind their actions. Salutationan Steve Dyer was next to deliver his speech in which he spoke of the revolts in the world and the need of the students to alter the situation.

Following the salutatory address, Mr Harry B Dyche, Jr., principal of Kecoughtan High School, announced awards and grants received by members of the class of '70. Seniors receiving scholarships were also honored Two special awards were presented to members of the senior class. The L G Salfour Key for the outstanding senior was awarded to Claudia Anna Hale. Debbie Stewart received the Elizabeth Cooke Award

Advocating participatory democracy Valedictorian Larry Reeca urged the class to lay apathy aside and work for a better society

Mr Garland R. Lively, superintendent of Hampton Schools, addressed the seniors and awarded the diplomas. After the last diploma had been awarded Debbie Stewart led the class in turning the tassle from the right to the left. This signified the final step in graduating

The Reverend Calvin L Jones. Jr of the Queen Street Baptist Church offered the benediction. Directly afterward, a proud and happy class recessed from the Coliseum

Before the final rehearset at the Collseum, Senior Class Sponsors, Mrs. Sue Weilmuenster and Mrs. Norma Seals help seniors find their places in line

In her final address to her classmetes. Debbie Stewart, Senior Class president, stresses the importance of trust in today's society.

Students are Thrust Into Business World of the Community

Mushrooming in activity, this age has depended entirely upon manufactured products and industrial services. Students became caught in this web of consumer products in their tremendous and seemingly unending buying power Local businessmen employed students whose interests in manufacturing and economic trends surged into new channels of thought

The entire student body also became engulfed in the whirlwind of the business world. Local businesses often lent the school props, flowers, and tools for special functions, and provided scholarships for students to continue their education. Financial aid in advertising became an important part of school concerts, plays, sports programs, and publications. Through the interest of local establishments, support was given to the individual student and to all phases of life at KHS

Epilogue

Memories are like the tides. Even though they seem to fade, they always come back. At times memories of past events return as only ripples of thought. Yet there are times when they will rush back at a height of fury to reach a peak of outstanding clarity. Times of anticipation, friendships made, and goals realized will be remembered by those who left a part of themselves behind. The tides come in quietly and return in an un measurable force. So must each individual reflect on the past and go forward in all of the force of youth turning the pages to begin new journeys of life.
